DESTRUCTIVE STORM.—Passengers by Manassas train this morning report a terrific rain and wind storm, accompanied by thunder, lightning and hail in the neighborhoods of R. Corwin and Marshall, in Fauquier county, yesterday evening about 6 o'clock. The wind had the force of a cyclone and the rain, though of short duration, was a veritable water-pour. At Rectortown the Temperance Lodge is said to have been blown down and the roof of the Methodist church and part of the depot were carried away, while shade and forest trees were uprooted and broken down like reeds. At Marshall the roof of the Presbyterian church and part of the carriage were torn off, several buildings were started from their foundations and half the trees in the village were blown down. The side of Major Foster's large catt barn was blown in and the whole structure moved from its place, and his apple orchard of old trees nearly being torn up by the roots and rolling along like weeds before the wind and left standing in the air. The damage to fruit and growing crops and small stock by the hail, which was propelled by the wind with almost the force of a rifle ball, is incalculable, being limited only by the extent of the storm. All the wheat and rye that was reached by it must be a total loss. At the early hour that the train leaves that section, but few particulars had been gathered and but one casualty by lightning had been heard of. Clay Vanhorn, a young white man, living near Marshall, was shocked by a bolt of lightning that struck a tree near by, and was severely hurt. He was unconscious nearly an hour, but at last became conscious and was not considered dangerously injured.

A letter received here from Marshall says: "There is not a stalk of corn left standing, nor a blade of wheat; the trees are riddled to pieces; the fences all blown down and not a spire of any kind left in the gardens. My wheat crop will not be worth harvesting."

Then bar of Mr. Robert Beverley, near The Plains, was, it is said, blown down and its contents scattered.

The same storm without the hail, however, passed over Fredericksburg and vicinity, leveling trees and doing much damage.

A WAR INCIDENT.—Gen. M. D. Corse, while in Richmond at the Lee monument ceremonies, received a perfect ovation at the hands of his old comrades while awaiting orders in front of the City Hall Thursday morning. Many of the mailed soldiers crowded around him and shook his hand until it pained him. One old veteran said to him: "General, I've got something to tell you. I was 'fraid to tell you at the time, but I ain't 'fraid now. You remember the morning when a farmer told you 'bout leavin' a shoot? Well, I killed that hog." "Did he try to bite you?" asked the General. "Yes sir, he was a brave hog, but I got him. I certainly did want you to have a piece of him, but I was 'fraid to send it to you, you kicked up such a fuss about it."

ANOTHER CHARTER.—Judge Keith to-day granted a charter to the Louisa Hill Gold Mining Company of Virginia. The objects are the mining, milling and sale of gold, silver and other metal. The principal office is to be in this city. The officers are J. E. Emerson, president; Jas. Clayton, Superintendent; F. F. Brierly, vice president; B. W. Royal, secretary and treasurer. A. W. Armstrong is to be the local attorney.

TUG ON FIRE.—The tug Edna, of Baltimore, lying at the Georgetown wharf, caught fire about half-past 10 o'clock last night, and was almost completely destroyed. Every one employed on the boat save an old colored man, had gone ashore, and when the man awoke from a sound slumber, he found the fire making rapid headway. An alarm was turned in at once, but the flames had done great damage before they could be extinguished. The boat was owned by Mr. George Umber, of Baltimore, and it is supposed the loss will amount to $4,000.

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because the wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or sore throat, lung or chest trouble, secure a bottle at once and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded.

Free bottles at E. S. Leadbeater & Bro.'s drug store (wholesale agents). Regular sizes 60 cents and $1.

A bar of iron worth $5 becomes when made into horsehoes, worth $10; into needles, $3,325; pen-knives, $35; and into watch-springs, $240,000, or more than its weight in gold. The same can truly be said of Stone-braker's Indian Gum Syrup for children teething. In the drug store it is only 25 and 50 cents, but in your medicine chest, where you can put your hands on it when emergencies arise, it is worth $25,000, or a thousand times its weight in gold.
